About the Presenter

Elizabeth Shown Mills is an acclaimed historical researcher and writer who has spent her life studying American culture and the relationships between people – emotional as well as genetic. Mills is the author, editor and translator of 13 books and more than 500 journal and magazine articles on genealogy, history and sociology. Aside from her reality-based historical novel, Isle of Canes, Mills is best known for two works now considered essential references in the field of family history: Evidence Explained: Citing History Sources from Artifacts to Cyberspace and Professional Genealogy: A Manual for Researchers, Writers, Editors, Lecturers & Librarians. Mills is a popular lecturer and past president of the American Society of Genealogists. She has been featured on BBC, CNN, PBS and other networks in the U.S., U.K. and Australia.
